Compare each side with its own 50%; do not compare distances across sides